Get Ready for the Spring Book Sale

Mark your calendars! The time has already arrived for your Friends of the Loveland Library Spring Book Sale. As always, we've got thousands of books sorted and packed and ready to be tabled at McKee Hall, Larimer County Fairgrounds, just for book lovers like you.

With titles in practically every genre (both fiction and non-fiction) we're confident that you'll find what you're looking for - and even treasures that you didn't expect. Be sure to check out our vintage section, and don't forget our large children's area where kids 12 and under will receive a free book.

Members of the Friends of the Loveland Library are invited to attend the pre-sale on Friday, April 21, from 4 -7 p.m. If you're not a member yet, this is a great time to sign up! You may purchase a membership at the door and take advantage of Friday's preview sale. Please note that booksellers may not use scanners during these special Friday hours.

Our sale is open to the public on Saturday, April 22 (10 a.m. – 4 p.m.) and again on Sunday, April 23 (11 a.m. – 3 p.m.). Sunday is designated as "bag day"—fill a standard-size plastic grocery bag with books (except vintage) for only $5. Larger bags are priced accordingly.

We look forward to seeing you! And, if you're interested in being a part of the book sale team, please contact our volunteer coordinator via our website - <http://friendsofthelovelandlibrary.org/volunteer>. We always welcome new Friends.

Loveland Loves to Read, 2017

The Loveland Loves to Read committee has exciting plans in place for all who have followed Navajo Lt. Joe Leaphorn and Officer Chee through eighteen Navajo mysteries written by Tony Hillerman. The author died in 2007. Since then, his daughter Anne has carried on the Leaphorn and Chee detective mysteries with three more novels, also set in the Four Corners area. Her first of the series, Spider Woman's Daughter, is our book selection for this year.

On September 18, at the Rialto Theater, Anne will talk about her work with her father before his death and the choices they made together for continuation of his work. To reserve two tickets in the front rows of the theater for this event, you can make a donation to Loveland Friends of the Library. Be sure mark your donation: FOR Loveland Loves to Read.

Donations of $50 - $99 will receive two front section tickets and an autographed paperback copy of Anne's second book Rock With Wings. Donations of $100 and more will receive two front section tickets and an autographed hard copy of the book Anne wrote with her father and her photographer husband, Don Strel: Tony Hillerman's Landscape. This book is priceless for fans of Hillerman stories set in the beautiful Navajo area of the country. All tickets for donors will be held in their names at the Rialto Will Call window. All books for donors will be autographed prior to the evening talk at the Rialto and available to pick up in the theater lobby.

Other events for the Loveland Loves to Read week are currently in progress. Check our website (www.friendsofthelovelandlibrary.org) for more details about:

- Lunch With the Author at the Sylvan Dale Ranch on Tuesday September 19
- Southwest Art presentation by Dr. Peter Jacobson Wednesday, September 20, 1 p.m. at the Library
- Movie Night, starring Leaphorn & Chee on Thursday September 21, 7 p.m. at the Library

Author Visit

Friends sponsorship made it possible for David Catrow, children's illustrator and artist, to visit Loveland in February, delighting elementary school children and adults alike. He spoke at Monroe and Sarah Milner Elementary Schools during the day, then at the library for a well-attended evening program. He highlighted his remarks with original artwork. Librarian Beth Gudmestad writes, "Thank you (Friends of the Library) for funding this program for our community. Kids and parents enjoy meeting their favorite authors and illustrators!"

Pints for People Returns

Save the date - Wednesday, June 21, 6 - 11 p. m. at Loveland Aleworks. Loveland Aleworks is an independent, family owned brewery, offering small batch handcrafted beers. The brewery will donate $1 to the Friends for each pint sold on this date.

Bricks For Sale

Volunteers are needed for this ever-popular fundraiser - <http://friendsofthelovelandlibrary.org/volunteer>.

Volunteer Shout-Out

Several of the Friends' events are managed by committees. But sometimes one of those members steps up and acts as an ad hoc Chairperson. Ursula Wooten did just that with the 2016 Loveland Lights, Holiday Traditions Around the World. Ursula deserves a hearty shout-out for working tirelessly to make Loveland Lights a rousing success.

She led planning meetings and kept the committee on track, while scheduling all the crafters, presenters, musical entertainment and volunteers. She even made cookies to give the musicians a treat. That sounds like plenty for one person, but Ursula did more!

She envisioned a cookie cutter tree, and made all the decorations and recipes to ensure this clever idea took shape. She managed a collection of newly donated trees and assigned decorators for each of them and was also responsible for making the passports for all the World stations and staffing each of those stations.

We hope you were able to enjoy all of Ursula's hard work at the 2016 Loveland Lights and that you'll take a moment to give Ursula a well-earned "Thanks!"

Membership

2016 has been a year of change for the Membership Committee. We moved the membership data from a manually created spreadsheet to an automated software program. There are many benefits from this conversion and a few challenges.

Benefits include:

- Easier updating of member information via the Internet
- Readily available information for board members
- Greater security of membership information
- Easily generated reports that aide in event planning, membership mailings, volunteer identification and communication via email to members and volunteers
- Decreased postage costs due to the easy email availability
- Members' ability to update their information online
- Join or renew online.

Some of our challenges include:

- A big learning curve for those implementing the program
- Changes in some of our processes
- Maintaining BOTH a manual system for those who do not have email and the new automated system for everyone else.

What each member can do:

- If you have an email address, please consider sharing it with the Friends. We do not share email addresses with anyone outside of the Friends without your permission.
- If you share your email address, please open your email. Membership renewal notices are sent automatically via email. Emails are also used for other Friend's business and communication. Our data indicates that just over 50% of the emails sent are opened.
- Sign into the website <http://friendsofthelovelandlibrary.org> and update your member information.

Goals for 2017:

1. Continue to define membership processes for new and renewing members to make them as easy as possible.
2. Increase utilization of the reporting function to provide reports to Friends' leadership.
3. Increase the use of email communication with all members.

When a small boy who is fond of “crying wolf” disappears, Gamache realizes that he should have listened to the boy's talk of a monster in the woods.

EXTRA! May 16, Tuesday a.m. only! When we read The Storied Life of A. J. Fikry in January, the groups became curious about the short story reviews that introduced each chapter. We will discuss four of these at this meeting and five more at the August potluck. Stories will be copied and available at the May 2 & 3 meetings and at the Adult Services desk as of May 2.

A complete schedule of stories with discussion dates is available at the desk any time.

Thank You, Marcia!

Marcia Lewis, Director of the Loveland Public Library, is retiring in April after nearly 35 years at the library. The Friends want to thank Marcia for her decades of dedication towards making the library an outstanding Colorado public library and a gem in the crown of the Loveland community. She has proved an invaluable partner to the Friends in all its activities. We wish her well in her future endeavors. Godspeed, Marcia!

Message From Marcia

Since I am retiring from the library April 14, I find myself looking back at my 34+-year career at the Loveland Library. I am amazed by the changes but proud that our mission relating to customer service and lifelong learning has not wavered.

When I arrived in August 1982, the library was closed on Sundays and Mondays. The library was on 6th and Cleveland, which is now the County Building. The building did not have an elevator and I remember parents struggling to get strollers up the stairs to the children's area.

Fortunately, after several years of financial and political struggle, the library moved to its current Civic Center site late in 1987 where all services were on ground level. We had space for programs and the growing collection. And the collection did grow, especially the media area! We have moved from circulating records and cassettes to CDs and DVDs and now to downloadables and eReaders.

Over the years many technological advances have occurred at the library. In 1985, we started to issue library cards with barcodes and began checking out using computers. August 8, 1988 stands out as the date staff stopped filing cards in the card catalog. Our latest change to the catalog occurred just last month when we merged and migrated from an independent Loveland-only catalog to the Flatirons Library Consortium where we share a catalog with the city libraries in Boulder, Broomfield, Lafayette, Louisville and Longmont.

There were several years of ups-and-downs with a Friends group too. In the early '80s the Friends hosted a monthly noontime book or travel program selling a sack lunch for $1. That group did dissolve but the Friends of the Library reorganized once we moved to the civic center. This is the group that still exists and has become an official 501c3 nonprofit foundation. From those early efforts the Friends has grown to over 800 individual members and is the major fundraising organization supporting the library in numerous ways.

The library staff and patrons definitely benefit from the support provided by the Friends. And we might not even be in the expanded and renovated building finished in 2012 without the two million dollars donated through fundraisers by the Friends of the Library Foundation.

It has been exciting to see how the Friends and the library have grown. One of the joys of my career has been working with the dedicated Friends volunteers. Thank you!
